Flooding and Friends

by Kathy Williams with photos courtesy of Clare Sullivan and Kathy Williams

"Event is cancelled. We are in a flood. We were rescued and are in a shelter." The text was from Clare Sullivan, a longtime and current BMTA Board Member.

"Holy …. You can stay with me. The news says 7 feet of water downtown Copperhill. Said the river overflowed." Kathy Williams

"Roads are underwater everywhere." Clare

Thus began the start of the BMTA Annual Meeting on Thursday, November 5 at 6:19 AM.

I was signed up to Hike Fest with Clare and Ed Sullivan on the Brush Creek Loop Trail that would take us to beautiful views of hidden Ocoee Lake. We were supposed to meet at the Mallard Hotel Pavilion in Ducktown at noon for the hike. Now the scramble to figure out if we were going to be able to have the Annual Meeting. Texts and emails were flying as everyone sought information on just how bad it was. It was bad. It was catastrophic. There was no way to have the meeting.

"How is it going?" Kathy

"Back inside water did not get to main level. Mud mud and mud everywhere downstairs and on property. Fence broken cars ruined." Clare

"Oh no how are you driving? Do you have power?" Kathy

"We have power but some lights are not working. Propane is not getting to the house, so oven, stove and hot water not working. No water pressure, not sure why. Mud is everywhere on lower level and in yard. All cars destroyed." Clare

Now it was time for action. The call went out and friends from the BMTA, Cherokee Hiking Club, Over-the -Hill Hikers and more did what they do best-get down and dirty and clear a path. This time the goal was not a hiking trail but one of our own's home.

Progress!

No Words to Express Our Sincere Appreciation

There are no words that can express our appreciation to our outstanding hiker and trail maintainer friends for their assistance in our flood recovery. These are just a few of the many ways they have helped us cope and make progress: picking us up at the shelter after being rescued off the fifth step of our home, calming our anxiety by serenading us with beautiful piano music, removing our belongings so the mud could be removed, washing our clothes and many muddy items, bringing wonderful food for our volunteers, giving us advice, opening our picture frames and photo albums to dry, and emailing care and concern for our situation.

Hikers from Florida and North Carolina who had arrived for the Annual Meeting chipped-in and assisted. We weren't the only victims, our BMTA guests lost both their camper, their truck and camping equipment.

Then there's the property that was full of STUFF, downed trees, downed fence and mounds of mud and sand. The trail maintainers handled it with skill.

Members from the BMTA, the Cherokee Hiking Club and the Over-the-Hill Hikers of Atlanta gave of their kindness, their time and their strong muscles to get us started on a huge mess. Ed and I are deeply grateful. Hikers and maintainers are wonderful people. Thank you, thank you, and thank you.

Clare and Ed Sullivan

Wild and Harrowing

by Darrell Sheffield

Melissa and I were camped at Parksville Lake and crossed the bridge in McCaysville towing a trailer while the storm was raging on Wednesday evening. We ended up staying for the weekend anyway but sitting in the camper while that storm rolled in was a bit wild!

River bloated and gorged.

Ocoee Dam #1 running wide open.

Mud coating everything.

Follow in Their Footsteps: Thank You for a Strong October!

by Byron Coker

October marked the official launch of our 2027 membership campaign and many of you showed up. By the end of October, BMTA had processed 186 membership purchases, bringing in 226 members, new and renewing, for 2027.

To everyone who joined or renewed: Thank You! Every membership, first time or 20th time, helps keep boots on the trail, saws in the woods, and the Benton MacKaye Trail open for the next hiker who wants to enjoy it. You're literally following in the footsteps of the volunteers and members who have worked to develope and maintain this trail since 1980. Now you're leaving your own footsteps for the next generation to follow.

If you have not yet joined or renewed your membership, we need you! Follow in the footsteps of those who have already made their commitment for 2027.

Join or Renew Today!

And the Winner Is...

Congratulations to Jim Campbell of Hendersonville, NC, randomly drawn from October's new and renewing members to win a BMTA Blue Skies T-Shirt!

Everyone who joined or renewed in October — you were automatically entered. Another drawing will take place at the end of November. You can still secure YOUR chance to win.

First Aid Certification and Recertification Update

Moving forward the plan is to have a course for sawyers and hike leaders in either January or February each year, locations differing depending on location of who needs it which years. One should be in Tennessee and one in Georgia. That way, you can plan ahead. If you wish to do this on your own, that is always fine, but our sessions are geared more toward what you would do out in the woods with no access to emergency services. There will be a small fee, a portion (less than half) of what is charged for each individual. Persons in the in-person classes in the past have remarked positively about the training, the question-and-answer sessions, and the interactions with fellow sawyers and leaders. Should we not be able to fill a class to the specifications of the instructor, we will offer openings to GATC and MHH members so the class can be held. If you have questions, please contact Darcy Douglas or Steve Pruett.

Celebrating a Season of Service with SAWS

by Bob Cowdrick

Dick Evans and I were proud to join the seasonal SAWS crew for a luncheon celebrating the end of their season. These dedicated individuals spent the season helping maintain the Benton MacKaye Trail in some of the more remote sections of North Carolina, making a lasting difference for hikers and the trail we all love.

It was a wonderful opportunity to celebrate their hard work, commitment, and passion for outdoor conservation and preservation.

A heartfelt thank-you to the entire SAWS crew for a job well done. It was a pleasure to share in their celebration and recognize the difference they make on the trail!

Put Your Donor-Advised Fund (DAF) to Work for the BMT!

If you already have supported the BMTA through a donation this year, thank you!

If not — as we look toward year-end, now is a great time to consider designating a DAF gift to the BMTA, giving another gift or increasing the amount you normally recommend. If you have a DAF, you've already made a charitable contribution. Now put those contributions to work through the BMTA.

Multiple projects are "shovel ready" but lack funding for materials:

- A new bridge over Little Skeenah Creek
- A kiosk at Lost Creek Campground
- Fence maintenance at Falls Branch Falls
- Erosion control check steps at Bushyhead Gap
- Handrails at Towee Creek

Each of these projects keeps the trail safer and more enjoyable for hikers, families, and volunteers alike.

How to recommend a DAF grant to the BMTA:

1) Log in to your DAF provider's portal (Fidelity, Schwab, Vanguard, etc.).
2) Search for: Benton MacKaye Trail Association or use our EIN: 58-1428009.
3) Confirm our mailing address:

Please notify us of your requested DAF distribution. Email DAF DISTRIBUTION with your name, donation amount, and financial institution so we can properly acknowledge your generosity and keep you informed on the impact your donation is making. Doublecamp Creek Road Hike

by Rick Harris with photos by Brenda Harris

The six of us met at the Cherohala Skyway Visitor Center and carpooled to the locked gate on Citico Creek Road. This road is closed due to the recent floods which wiped out sections of this road and almost all of the Doublecamp Creek Road. This hike was to check out the devastation to Doublecamp Creek Road.

We hiked downstream along Citico Creek Road for 1.6 miles to the intersection of Doublecamp Creek Road. Then we hiked up this road which in many places no longer exists. We don't see how this road will ever be rebuilt. In places the road is completely gone with only huge boulders to climb over and around. We were only able to hike up about a mile before reaching an area which was pretty much completely impassible.
Along the way we ate lunch, then returned to our vehicles.

Trina Jordan, Stephanie Gordon, Roger Gordon, Rick Harris with Nahme and Kim Corley.

We picked up a lot of trash on the way back, but Rodger was the winner.

Afterwards we had beer and dinner at the Tellico Brewing Company and the Peach Street Grill. There we watched painters working on the mural just across the street from the Peach Street Grill.

Len Foote Hike Inn Half Price! Put It on Your Calendar

by Clare Sullivan

The beautiful Len Foote Hike Inn has reserved rooms for BMTA members on Tuesday, February 23, 2027. All rooms will be half-price. Members can call 706-344-1547, Monday through Friday, 8:00 AM-2:30 PM, to make a reservation. You cannot reserve online. Let them know you want a room transferred from Clare Sullivan's name to your name. The deadline for reserving is Saturday, January 23.

The cost per person is $82.50, with tax the total would be $95.70. A double adult room is $110.00; with tax the total would be $127.60. This includes dinner, breakfast, a tour of their Platinum LEED Certified facility and an interesting program on nature. The tour and the program are optional. BMTA member Steve Hayden will be presenting the program on four BMTAers who hiked the El Camino in Spain last spring.

The scenic moderate 5-mile hike gradually goes uphill. The rooms are heated and have electricity. You receive a cloth bag with sheets and a towel at check-in. Extra-long bunk beds are in each room. The meals include fresh food. The bathhouse is just steps from your room and has hot showers. Lights line the covered walkway to the bathhouse. Puzzles, books, games and a few guitars are available in the lovely sunroom. Relaxing chairs are on the deck

Feel free to visit the Len Foote Hike Inn website at The Hike Inn. If you'd like to hike to the Hike Inn with others, meet at the Amicalola Visitors Center at 10:00 AM. You must start your hike no later than 2PM.

Forests, Trails, Drains and Fun!

The BMTA teamed up with SAWS in the Cheoah Ranger District for another successful workday - adding drainage to a very steep section of “traditionally built fault line trail”. We installed 20 drains and had some hors d’oeuvres afterwards at the trailhead. by Jason Doroski.

Cherohala Skyway Festival

by Rick Harris with photos courtesy of Rick and Brenda Harris

Twelve volunteers maned and womaned the BMTA/SABCH booth at the Cherohala Skyway Festival this beautiful, cool and crisp October Saturday at the Charles Hall Museum. It was a very busy Saturday with thousands attending. Our booth was busy all day, and well over 100 kids and many adults tried their skills on the crosscut saw.

Booth folks included Rick and Brenda Harris, Tim Williams, Barb Childress, Bob Cowdrick, Bobby and Joanne Mitchell, Darrel and Melissa Sheffield, Jennifer Bennet, Otis Pannel and Clare Sullivan.

Dedicated Volunteers at Caney Creek

by Clare Sullivan

Six of us, Steve Pruett, Daphne Martin, Laurie Schatz, Anne Anderson and Ed and Clare Sullivan, worked five hours getting Caney Creek Village ready for Hike Fest. The hike includes kayaking to the village of Caney Creek and so did the work trip! It was HARD work. We're beat!

Too bad we can't just float around! We have work to do!

Ed and Clare Sullivan are happy to see the progress!

Saving Georgia's Hemlocks

by Ken Cissna

On October 31st, thirteen BMTA volunteers joined with a similar number of volunteers from Save Georgia's Hemlocks (SGH) to rescue approximately 250 hemlocks, large and small, from certain death. That might sound extreme or melodramatic, but it is pretty much the literal truth.

A small insect called the hemlock wooly adelgid imported from Japan is killing our beautiful Eastern Hemlocks all along the Appalachian Mountains. We worked in small teams, with each team assigned to specific area, to treat as many of the hemlocks as we could with an insecticide called imidacloprid. Some of us would fan out to find nearby hemlocks. Another person measured the diameter of each tree at chest height. The diameter is used both to determine how much insecticide to apply to each tree and to chart the growth and health of each tree over time. Yet another team member nailed a small, aluminum tag with a unique number to each tree. Then a member used the applicator to squirt a specific dose of imidacloprid (usually divided into several injections) into the ground around the tree. The small feathery roots near the tree take the insecticide up into the tree, allowing it to fend off the wooly adelgid for five or six more years. The final member recorded all of this activity—the tree's number, diameter, and dose applied—on a clipboard. And we moved on to another tree.

By the end of the day, Jim Wentworth, SGH member and the leader of the day's project, said we had saved about 250 trees. BMTA members Jessie Heyden, Steve Heyden, Jennifer Willis, Dennis Willis, Gloria Harmon, Leslie McConachie, Alan Grubb, Samantha Crespo, Liz Henderson, Bob Cowdrick, Steve Houghton, Cindy Ciaccio and Ken Cissna participated in this event.

Meet Steve Dennison, BMTA Maintainer

by Steve Hayden

Before becoming a Benton MacKaye Trail Maintainer, Steve Dennison had a rewarding career as an examiner for credit unions. He now lives with his family and two dogs in Jasper Georgia. When not working on the BMT, he enjoys travelling to all the baseball stadiums in the US. He hopes to complete his quest with a visit soon to Miami stadium. His traveling also extends to vacationing in the Rocky Mountains National Park, a personal favorite destination.

Steve was drawn to the BMT via an announcement of a BMT hike. Hiking led to becoming a Hike Leader, which led to trail maintenance and further volunteer opportunities with the BMTA.

Through his trail maintenance work, Steve has learned to be versatile and always have a "Plan B" for occasions when things don't go as planned. Weather, logistics, trail hazards, time, tool limitations and physical capacity sometimes demand these new skills be put into action.

Steve says the most rewarding part of being a BMTA member and maintaining the trails is meeting new people with similar commitments. The Benton MacKaye Trail Association is a high energy group with no time for bickering and certainly no time for political discussions. As he says, "Over 50-year-olds don't want to change". The trail work is very rewarding, but his biggest challenges are the early wake up calls for travel to remote trail sections and trying not to hit deer along the way!

A personal success story for Steve is meeting five hikers on the trail during various BMT hikes. He encouraged them to try trail work and they became members and trail maintainers. Three of those five have adopted an entire section for maintenance! Steve looks forward to having more maintainers to be assigned to sections and alleviate the inactive and "name only" section maintainers.

With Steve's impressive knowledge, skill and experience, he could be a walking source of good advice for others. He says he doesn't give advice but encourages other trail workers to use care when carrying tools: Heavy and sharp sides down and forward!

When his trail days are over, Steve wants his epitaph to read, "GO BRAVES!"

When hiking the BMT or volunteering for trail maintenance, do not miss the chance to meet Steve. You will learn new skills and contribute to the BMT legacy – "leaving a footpath for generations to follow."

PLEASE JOIN US on a group hike or trail maintenance day. Check out the calendar of events in this newsletter on page 19.

Dick Evans Honored with Warriors Path's Servant Leadership Award

Dick,
Great to see you both at tonight's dinner.
Your Servant Leadership award was well deserved.
It is a reminder that the BMT is more than a hiking trail for many of us.

It can transform many individual's lives into new levels of hope.

Well done my friend!
Bob

Upcoming

by Ray Laws, Hiking Director

November

November 17 (Tuesday) North Carolina JKSR Benton MacKaye Volunteer Days.

November 20 (Friday) Unicoi Turnpike National Historical Trail. Location: Coker Creek Welcome Center 10 AM. This 3-mile hike is mostly downhill and is full of history. This is an easy hike, and it will be fun to explore what is left of the CCC Rolling Stones Camp. We will meet at the Coker Creek Welcome Center, leave some vehicles at the bottom of the trail along Joe Brown Highway (a gravel USFS road), then drive to the top of the ridge at Unicoi Gap. We will follow the BMT southbound a quarter mile, then head down the Unicoi Turnpike Trail. This trail is a deep wagon rut which was used extensively first by the Cherokee Indians, then by militia during the War of 1812, then by settlers and gold seekers, and finally by us. The trail was the route to bring the Cherokee out of the NC mountains on the Trail of Tears as well. The Cherokee were kept at nearby Fort Armistead in Coker Creek, then transported to Charleston and down the Hiwassee River to Chattanooga (then called Ross's Landing). From there, the Cherokee walked or went by boat across Tennessee on out to Oklahoma. The deeply entrenched roadbed is sometimes over our head. About halfway down the trail, we enter the area of the old Rolling Stones CCC camp. Much of the campsite area is still easy to explore with lots of stone and cement structures. Once we get off the trail, we will retrieve our vehicles, then probably eat supper at the Blue Line Grill (a partner to the BMTA), a short distance south on TN-68. What to bring: Lunch, water, your dog on leash. Contact Hike Leaders Rick and Brenda Harris (and Nahme, our dog) at rharris@bmta.org.

November 25 (Wednesday) Unicoi State Park. Five miles via the lake trail, Frog Pond and Bottoms Loop. Contact Hike Leader Ralph Collinson at rcollinson@bmta.org.

November 27 (Friday) Amadahy Trail. DOG-FRIENDLY HIKE (adult humans may bring a leashed dog). Easy / moderate 4-5 miles. Good hike for working off that turkey on the day after Thanksgiving. Contact Hike Leader Ken Cissna at kcissna@bmta.org.

November 30 (Monday) Lake Nottely Dam Trails. Four miles in Blairsville, GA.
Contact Hike Leader Ralph Collinson at rcollinson@bmta.org.

December

December 4 (Friday) BMT: Dally Gap along the BMT to Jack's River and back to cars. DOG-FRIENDLY HIKE (adult humans may bring a leashed dog). Moderate 5 miles.
Contact Hike Leader Ken Cissna at kcissna@bmta.org.

December 12 (Saturday) BMTA GA/TN/NC Maintenance Trip. TBA
Contact the Georgia Maintenance Director at bmtagamaintdirector@bmta.org.

December 14 (Monday) Trails of Jack Rabbit in Hayesville, NC.
Contact Hike Leader Ralph Collinson at rcollinson@bmta.org.

December 15 (Tuesday) North Carolina JKSR Benton MacKaye Volunteer Days.

December 18 (Friday) Fightingtown Creek #3. DOG-FRIENDLY HIKE (adult humans may bring a leashed dog) Easy/moderate 4 miles. Contact Hike Leader Ken Cissna at kcissna@bmta.org.

December 18 (Friday) Indian Boundary Lake Loop Trail. Location: Cherohala Skyway Visitor Center, departure Time: 9 AM. This 3.1-mile easy hike around the lake at Indian Boundary Recreation Area is indeed a beautiful hike. The lake will be low, but the views will be panoramic with Flats Mountain in the background. This is a well-groomed trail with 13 bridges over small creeks feeding the lake. It is a busy bike trail by mostly kids during the summer while camping there. But in December, there will probably be no other hikers or bikers. The campground will be closed except for the Overflow Campground. Afterwards, we can eat supper at one of the restaurants in Tellico Plains. What to bring: Lunch, water, your dog on leash. Contact Hike Leaders Rick and Brenda Harris (and Nahme, our dog) at rharris@bmta.org.

December 28 (Monday) Trails at Piney Branch in Murphy, NC.
Contact Hike Leader Ralph Collinson at rcollinson@bmta.org.

January

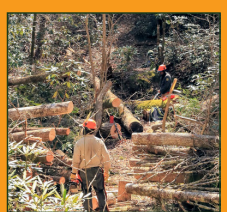

January 1 (Friday) BMT/AT Upper Loop at Springer Mountain. Bring in New Year's Day with a great hike to an iconic mountain! DOG-FRIENDLY HIKE (adult humans may bring a leashed dog). Hike from Big Stamp Gap to Springer Mountain on the BMT. See the southern terminus of the BMT and the southern terminus of the AT. Then follow the AT north to the intersection with the BMT and return to Big Stamp Gap. Moderate hike of about 5 miles. The first 1.5 miles are uphill. Contact Hike Leader Ken Cissna at kcissna@bmta.org.

January 5 (Tuesday) Clear Creek Trail. Moderate 5.4 miles. Gorgeous views of Parksville Lake and the surrounding mountains. Hardwood forest, rhododendrons, rolling hills and a creek crossing. Contact Hike Leaders Judy Price and Clare Sullivan at csullivan@bmta.org.

January 9 (Saturday) BMTA GA/TN/NC Maintenance Trip. TBA
Contact the Georgia Maintenance Director at bmtagamaintdirector@bmta.org.

January 11 (Monday) Piney Branch in Murphy. This will be a four-to-six-mile hike on the bike trails depending on the winter weather. Contact Hike Leader Ralph Collinson at rcollinson@bmta.org.

January 19 (Tuesday) North Carolina JKSR Benton MacKaye Volunteer Days.

January 21 (Thursday) Brush Creek Trail in Tanasi Trail system. DOG-FRIENDLY HIKE (adult humans may bring a leashed dog). We will do an approximately 4-mile "almost loop" with short shuttle. It's a lower elevation trail with winter views of secluded Ocoee Lake #3. Rated easy.
Contact Hike Leader Anne Anderson at ahander1971@gmail.com.

January 25 (Monday) This will be a hike on two separate trails. The first hike will be approximately two miles to the Yonah overlook at Smithgall State Park just outside of Hellen and then a quick shuttle to Dukes Creek Parking lot on the Richard Russell Parkway and a two-mile hike to Dukes Creek Falls. If the Richard Russell Parkway is closed due to weather we will change to a second hike in Unicoi State Park or Hardman Farm State Park in nearby Helen, GA.
