PRESS RELEASE

Legislation to study the feasibility of the Benton MacKaye Trail (BMT) to become a National Scenic Trail was reintroduced in Congress April 9, 2025, by Representatives Chuck Fleischmann, Steve Cohen, Chuck Edwards and Lucy McBath; and Senators Thom Tillis, Raphael Warnock and Ted Budd. The Benton MacKaye National Scenic Trail Feasibility Study Act of 2025 (H.R. 2768 and S. 1376) would direct the U.S. Forest Service to advance the process for formally designating the Benton MacKaye Trail (BMT) as our country's 12th National Scenic Trail.

When asked about the BMT and what the designation would mean for the trail, Benton MacKaye Trail Association (BMTA) President Bob Cowdrick said, "The BMT, which was completed in 2005, provides an exceptional opportunity for tens of thousands of people to get outdoors each year and experience the stunning beauty of the Southern Appalachian Mountains. The legislation is a critical step forward in the BMTA's quest to have the BMT designated a National Scenic Trail. The designation would help protect our storied outdoor heritage for future generations, support local economies, and provide a wide array of recreation opportunities for everyone from day hikers to thru hikers, solo trekkers to families. We are grateful to Representatives Chuck Fleischmann, Steve Cohen, Chuck Edwards and Lucy McBath; and Senators Thom Tillis, Raphael Warnock and Ted Budd for championing this effort to preserve a trail that means so much to so many."

Nestled in the Southern Appalachians, the 288-mile-long BMT offers day hikers and long-distance hikers a unique opportunity to experience a journey that winds its way through three states (Georgia, Tennessee and North Carolina). The trail passes through three National Forests (the Chattahoochee-Oconee, the Cherokee and the Nantahala National Forests) and crosses six wilderness areas. The route includes 93 miles in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park (GSMNP), making it the longest trail in the GSMNP.

Ninety-five percent of the BMT is on land managed by either the Forest Service or the National Park Service – just 15 miles of the trail remain on public roads/private lands. New land acquisition will be limited and will be on a willing seller basis.

At festivals, on sponsored hikes and at other events, the association's 855 members spread the word about the BMT as they educate the public about hiking, camping and a Wilderness experience in the Southern Appalachian Mountains – and – instill a sound conservation ethic.

Best of all, a portion of the BMT is in your backyard. Landmarks in or around the trail in the North Georgia Mountains include treks to the iconic Suspension Bridge over the Toccoa River and Fall Branch Falls. Backpackers especially enjoy the peaceful solitude of the BMT in the Cohuttas. Make plans for a day hike or backpacking excursion soon!
